MEMORANDUM

TO: Legislative Education Study Committee

FR: Travis Dulany

RE: STAFF BRIEF: CHARTER SCHOOL SHARE OF ED. TECHNOLOGY ACT
(2014 INTRODUCED LEGISLATION)

INTRODUCTION

During the 2014 legislative session, legislation (SB 6, Charter School Share of Ed. Technology Act) was introduced to amend the Education Technology Equipment Act to make locally and state-chartered charter schools eligible to receive a share of revenue or equipment¹ acquired through the issuance of Education Technology Notes (ETNs); however, the legislation did not pass.

This staff brief provides the following information related to the 2014 legislation:

- bill summaries;
- substantive issues; and
- background.

This brief also includes the following attachments:

- Attachment 1, Senate Bill 6;
- Attachment 2, Senate Finance Committee Report for SB 6;
- Attachment 3, Senate Floor Substitute for Senate Bill 6;
- Attachment 4, Charter Schools within School Districts Currently Receiving Funding Pursuant to the Education Technology Equipment Act; and
- Attachment 5, New Mexico Charter Schools 2013-2014.

BILL SUMMARIES

SB 6 was amended and later substituted on the Senate Floor. The original bill included locally chartered and state-chartered charter schools in the definition of “school district,” while the floor substitute for SB 6 used a separate definition for an “eligible charter school.” Furthermore, the original bill required the distribution of revenue from debt assumed under the act, while the floor substitute for SB 6 required that school districts provide equipment to each eligible charter school. These variations between the two versions of the bill, among other differences, can be found in the bill summaries below.

Original Bill Summary

SB 6 would have amended the Education Technology Equipment Act to:

- define “department” as the Public Education Department (PED);
- expand the definition of a school district to include a “locally chartered or state-chartered charter school located within the geographic boundaries of a school district”;
- require a local school board, after July 1, 2014, to include, in the resolution approving the lease-purchase of education technology equipment pursuant to the Education Technology Equipment Act, the lease-purchase of education technology equipment for all charter schools located within the school district, as long as:
 - the charter school provides information regarding the use of the education technology equipment in time to be included in the board resolution; and
 - the lease-purchase is included in the five-year facilities plan of:
 - the school district if the school is locally chartered; or
 - the charter school if the school is state-chartered; and
- add a new section:
 - to set parameters for the distribution of revenue to charter schools based on certain enrollment data; and
 - require PED to certify to county treasurers the percentage of revenue to be distributed to each charter school.

Original Bill Amendment

The Senate Finance Committee amended the bill to add language requiring that adequate revenue shall be allocated from the proceeds of the sale of ETNs to meet principal and interest obligations associated with the debt distributed to charter schools.

Floor Substitute Bill Summary

The floor substitute for SB 6 would have amended the Education Technology Equipment Act to:

- define:
 - “department” as PED; and
 - “eligible charter school” as “a locally chartered or state-chartered charter school located within the geographic boundaries of a school district that timely provides the necessary information to identify the lease-purchase education technology equipment for use in the charter school to be included in the local school board resolution for lease-purchase of education technology equipment”; and
- add a new section to the Education Technology Equipment Act:
 - after July 1, 2014, a school district that assumes debt under the provisions of the Education Technology Equipment Act shall provide, to each eligible charter school in the district, education technology equipment equal in value to an amount based upon the debt prorated by the number of students enrolled in the district and charter school as reported on the first reporting date of the prior school year; and
 - in the case of an approved eligible charter school that had not commenced classroom instruction in the prior school year, the estimated full-time-equivalent enrollment in the first year of instruction, as shown in the charter school application, shall be used to determine the amount, subject to adjustment after the first reporting date.

SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES

Educational Technology Notes

According to the PED analysis for the original bill:

- currently, school districts that generate revenue from the sale of ETNs do not distribute a portion of these proceeds to charter schools located within their physical boundaries;
- the ETNs are sold using the district’s property tax capacity to generate funds;
- because all of the property in the district is taxed, including property owned by parents of children who attend charter schools, an argument could be made that a portion of the proceeds received from the sale of ETNs should be distributed to those charter schools located within district boundaries;
- the process for issuing bonds to generate revenue for school districts under the provisions of the Education Technology Equipment Act is different from the process used in other property tax elections (e.g. the Public School Buildings Act, commonly known as HB 33, or the Public School Capital Improvements Act, commonly known as SB 9);

- this is the only process in the state that does not require voter approval to increase property taxes – only school board approval is necessary for the issuance of ETNs;
- ETNs are bonds that are repaid through property taxes, usually with a five-year term;
- an ETN can be approved at any time during the fiscal year with board approval; and
- the number of ETNs that can be issued is only limited by the bonding capacity of the district.

According to PED, there are currently 13 school districts that utilize funding under the Education Technology Equipment Act, seven of which have at least one charter school within district boundaries. Because FL/SB 6 specified that, after July 1, 2014, a school district that assumes debt under the Education Technology Equipment Act shall provide education technology equipment to eligible charter schools, it appears that FL/SB 6 would not have affected the current ETNs issued in these seven districts.

Computer-based Testing

In school year 2014-2015, the New Mexico Standards-based Assessment is scheduled to be replaced by an assessment aligned with the Common Core State Standards and developed by the Partnership for the Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC). The PARCC assessment will be computer-based, requiring certain technology upgrades and updates throughout the state’s public schools.

In a recent Information Technology Advisory Group meeting, PED staff reported that the results of technology readiness applications indicate a need for an additional 10,000 computers in New Mexico public schools in order to meet minimum standards to administer the PARCC test next school year. The department has allocated $5.2 million in FY 14 “to purchase computers for administration of the next generation assessment developed by [PARCC].” Additionally, legislation enacted during the 2014 legislative session allows for up to $15.0 million for education technology infrastructure in preparation for the PARCC test:

- *SB 159aaa, Education Technology Infrastructure Funding, amended the Public School Capital Outlay Act to provide for annual expenditure of up to $10.0 million from the Public School Capital Outlay Fund in FY 14 through FY 19 for education technology infrastructure; and
- *CS/HB 55aa, 2014 Work NM Act – Severance Tax Bond Projects, appropriated $5.0 million from unexpended proceeds of taxable supplemental severance tax bonds for educational technology infrastructure at public schools that meet certain criteria.

Alternative sources of revenue for technology, such as the Education Technology Equipment Act, may also be utilized to acquire requisite computers in future years.

PED’s website currently displays a map of schools and their technology readiness status.²

Education Technology Equipment Act

The purpose of the Education Technology Equipment Act is to implement the provision of Article IX, Section 11 of the Constitution of the State of New Mexico, which declares that a school district may create a debt by entering into a lease-purchase arrangement to acquire education technology equipment without submitting the proposition to a vote of the qualified electors of the school district.

*Technology for Education Act*³

The purpose of the Technology for Education Act is to:

- establish the Education Technology Bureau⁴ within PED;
- outline functions and duties of the Education Technology Bureau, including:
 - assistance to school districts to develop and implement a strategic, long-term plan for utilizing education technology in the classroom; and
 - recommend funding mechanisms that will support the development and maintenance of an effective education technology infrastructure in the state;
- create the Council on Technology in Education with 17 members appointed by PED for terms of four years; and
- create the Educational Technology Fund and the Educational Technology Deficiency Correction Fund in the State Treasury.

Public School Capital Improvements Act

The purpose of the Public School Capital Improvements Act, commonly known as SB 9, or the “two-mill levy,” is to create a funding mechanism that allows districts to ask local voters to approve a property levy of up to two mills for a maximum of six years. Funds generated through imposition of the two-mill levy must be used for:

- building, remodeling, making additions to, providing equipment for, or furnishing public school buildings;
- purchasing or improving public school grounds;
- maintaining public school buildings or public school grounds, including the purchasing or repairing of maintenance equipment, participating in the facility information management system as required by the Public School Capital Outlay Act, and including payments under contract with regional education cooperatives for maintenance support services and expenditures for technical training and certification for maintenance and facilities management personnel, but excluding salary expenses of school district employees;

³ Not to be confused with the Education Technology Equipment Act.

⁴ The Education Technology Bureau no longer exists, however, the functions and duties are administered by the PED Chief Information Officer.

- purchasing activity vehicles for transporting students to extracurricular activities; and
- purchasing computer software and hardware for student use in public school classrooms.

Public School Buildings Act

The Public School Buildings Act (commonly known as HB 33) allows districts to impose a tax not to exceed 10-mills for a maximum of six years on the net taxable value of property upon approval of qualified voters. Subject to certain limitations, these funds are to be used for:

- building, remodeling, making additions to, providing equipment for, or furnishing public school buildings;
- payments made pursuant to a financing agreement between a school district or a charter school for the leasing of a building or other real property, with an option to purchase for a price that is reduced according to payments made;
- purchasing or improving public school grounds;
- purchasing activity vehicles for transporting students to and from extracurricular activities, provided that this authorization for expenditure does not apply to school districts with a student membership greater than 60,000; or
- administering projects, including expenditures for facility maintenance software, project management software, project oversight, and district personnel specifically related to administration of projects funded by the Public School Buildings Act, provided that expenditures pursuant to this subsection do not exceed 5.0 percent of the total project costs.

Charter Schools

Current provisions in the Public School Buildings Act began requiring, as of July 1, 2007, that a resolution submitted to the qualifying electors must include capital improvement funding for a locally chartered or state-chartered charter school located within the school district if the:

- charter school timely provides the necessary information to the school district for inclusion on the resolution that identifies the capital improvements of the charter school for which the revenue proposed to be produced will be used; and
- capital improvements are included in the five-year facilities plan.
